

DENISON GREEKS TO MEET IN GRANVILLE NOVEMBER 15; PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK

(Special to the Advocate.)
Granville, Nov. 2.—A Pan-Hellenic meeting of all the alumni of the Greek letter fraternities will be held at Granville on Saturday evening, November 15th, immediately preceding the separate initiations and banquets of the several fraternities.
The indications are that 200 or more Denison alumni will return to Granville to attend the gathering.
Walter L. Flory of Cleveland, William F. Chamberlain of Dayton and Willis A. Chamberlain of Granville, representing the "Betas," "Phi Gams" and "Sigs," respectively, called upon President Charles W. Chamberlain of Denison late Saturday afternoon and outlined the proposed plan. Dr. Chamberlain endorsed the suggestion and within a day or two circulars will be mailed to the Denison "Greeks" inviting them to come to Granville on the 15th inst.
The object of the meeting is to obtain the best from the fraternities of Denison; the theme, what can the fraternity men do for Denison; time, 7:30 p. m., Nov. 15, immediately following the football game and preceding the various fraternity initiations and banquets.
President Chamberlain will speak on Denison. The program has not been completed but the following alumni among others have been requested to speak: W. F. Chamberlain, Dr. F. W. Sheppard, Edward A. Davis, Judge B. F. McCann, Dr. Millard Breidford, Judge Howard Ferris. The subjects will be Granville, The Denison Alumni, Scholarships and Fraternity, College Fraternity and Character, etc. Denison men will be invited to come to Granville on November 15th, and as the proposed meeting has already been taken up with a number of the alumni it is confidently believed that 200 or more will be on hand to attend the Pan-Hellenic banquet on the 15th inst.

Newark Graveyard Recollections

(By Joseph Simpson.)
I used to be the pleasure of my boyhood to visit the old Sixth street graveyard in Newark (long since abandoned). I had lived in the vicinity many years and often searched and enjoyed reading the old inscriptions there recorded. At the beginning sandstone and freestone from the hills nearby were used for monuments. Marble, there was none, until the construction of the Ohio canal, when it was brought from Vermont or the Eastern quarries.
Many times I strayed over its grounds and upon bended knees have pressed down and parted the rank grass that I might see the queer wordings intended as a compliment to those resting beneath. Varied and inartistic in shape and design were many of the monuments. For ornamentation the most popular was the attempt to imitate the weeping willow, always thought so emblematic and appropriate with its long drooping branches, although copies of which they produced, varied greatly in shape to our genuine home grown, graceful trees. No attempt to describe the difference will be made. Nearby on a slab could be seen one of those drooping willows shading a graceful female figure. She had a bandage deftly twined about her head. A lady friend who knew the deceased explained that she was subject to distressing sick headaches, which finally led to her demise. With extreme sadness and with due consideration, the husband thought it but proper to illustrate the real ending of his beloved consort.
Lines.
"When the angels made their flight on that Saturday night
At 8:40 p. m., February the 16th, A. D., 1849
And wafted the spirit of our dear friend away.
Like soft zephyr breezes that were wont o'er her face to play
And make her sleep be sweet till that Judgment Day."

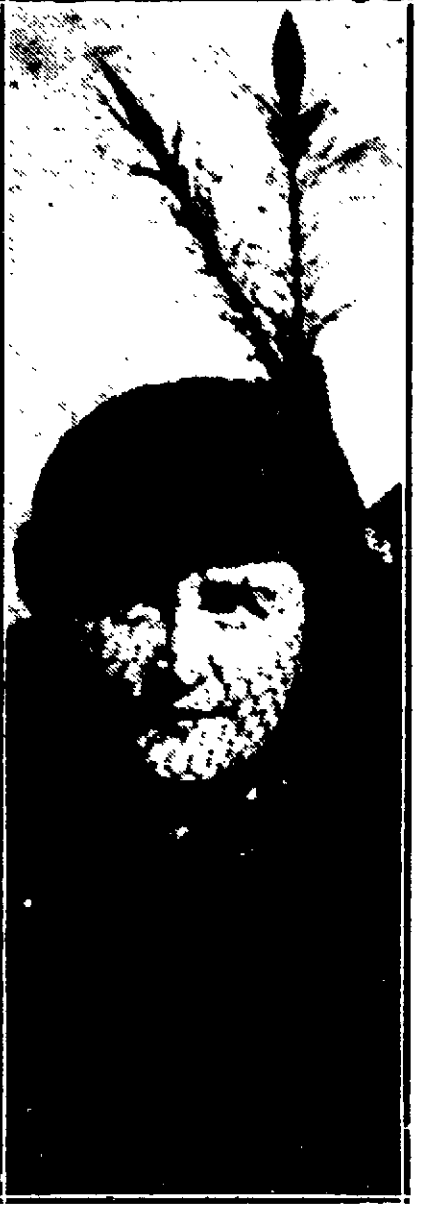

On the face of another stone that stood not far from the brick fence along Main street, was carved several lines of music—staff, notes and all, with the words of the old time hymn—"Mount Vernon—accompanying."
Dearest sister thou hast left us
Now, thy loss we deeply feel
But, 'tis God that hath bereft us
He can all our sorrows "heel."
Changing of the word "heel" into that of "heel" gave it a most ridiculous turn. No doubt the person that furnished the copy was in earnest but a poor speller, or it might be the fault of the stone cutter or it might be that both were bad spellers and didn't know the difference. One would suppose that an effort to correct it would have been attempted before its erection. It furnished a good deal of comment and humor among its readers. The last time I visited the spot the carving was about all gone, through the action of the elements. The inscription and the music had nearly all disappeared, leaving the stone bare of its former interest. Some distance east of this stone, just inside the Sixth street fence, stood a broad, plain marble slab recording the death of Deborah Steadman, with a seeming short notice to all persons passing up and down Sixth street to get ready for the coming doom that surely awaited them.
"Remember all as you pass by, as you are now, so once was I. As I am now, soon you shall be. Prepare for death and follow me."
North of this, say twenty yards, stood a small and more modern marble monument inscribed to the memory of Hail Brockway, of Brockport, New York, and Captain of Canal Packet boat—"Red River."
One could easily suppose that Capt. Brockway became seriously ill while navigating the waters of the Ohio canal and possibly had died while aboard; or upon arrival at the

DENISON ROMPS AWAY WITH OHIO

Athens, Nov. 2.—Denison overwhelmed Ohio here Saturday, winning 42 to 0 and rolling up the biggest score of the season against Ohio. Coach Livingston's pupils displayed a dash and fighting spirit which soon put Ohio's battered team out of the running. Round-bush's forward passing was so perfect that 42 points resulted. A place kick by Black was the only Denison score in the last 25 minutes of play. On straight football the teams were nearly evenly matched. Denison's star basketball players starred in the open game.

Sore Throat Don'ts.
When the children have sore throat, don't blister their necks with lamp oil. Don't torture them with a foul smelling piece of fat meat, wrapped about the neck. Don't imagine there is medical virtue in an old sock or piece of red flannel. Don't believe in antiquated superstitions. A sore throat is a serious matter and is not to be healed by such makeshift remedies. The use of such methods is simply putting the patient to needless torture. Use a little sore throat wisdom and give them TONSILINE and the throat will heal quickly. 25 cents and 50 cents. Hospital Size $1.00. All Druggists.

Miss Anne Morgan Escapes With Feathers

When Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late Senator, arrived the other day on the great German steamship Imperator, she had some feathers on her hat, and the customs officials looked at them suspiciously.
"Are they aligrettes?" she was asked, for aligrettes cannot be imported to the United States under the new tariff law. Actresses and society women coming back from Europe who didn't know this law or thought it was a joke have had their aligrettes snipped from their millinery by unfeeling customs inspectors.
"No," Miss Morgan replied to the question. "The very idea! Don't you know an aligrette? They are plain peacock feathers, and the peacock is an American bird, and they would leave him so exhausted. We tried everything, but to no avail. At last some one suggested that we try Vinol, and we noticed a change in him from the very first. The coughing spells ceased and he gained in strength right along. We would not be without it and would advise parents who have frail and weakly children to try Vinol."
This is because the child needed the strengthening cod liver elements and the tonic iron that Vinol contains. No oil, delicious taste. Children love it. We gave back your money if Vinol does not benefit. F. D. Hall, Druggist, Newark, Ohio.

1904—Jim Jeffries defeated Tom Sharkey in 25 rounds at Coney Island. Jeff had won the big title by knocking out Bob Fitzsimmons in 11 rounds, and the fight expected to would make each work of the saloon, although the latter had numerous admirers who did not share the popular belief. This constituted a record in receipts until the Garza-Nelson and Johnson-Jeffries battles in Nevada. QUARTERBACK ORR IS HURT IN COLLISION

Columbus, Nov. 2.—A game that was brought to a sudden close by the colliding of Chic Harlan of East, and Quarterback Orr of Newark, when going after a forward pass, during the final minute of play, was defeated the Moulders Saturday morning at Indianapolis park, 10 to 0.
The accident happened with but 30 seconds of play remaining and because of the overwhelming size of the score it was agreed to end the game without further play.
Newark was on its own 20-yard line and attempted a forward pass. Orr made a try for it and was running head down toward the East goal line. Harlan came to him, and dove for the ball. The heads collided while going at full tilt, and were knocked to the ground. A horrible crash was made in Orr's forehead from which the blood flowed profusely. Harlan was not nearly so badly shaken up as Orr but he suffered several severe cuts over the eye. Harlan will be in a fit shape to take part in the North game on Saturday afternoon.

FRAIL, WEAKLY CHILD

Made Strong by Vinol.
So many cases like this are coming to our attention for the benefit of fathers and mothers of weak, sickly, ailing children in this vicinity we publish the following letter:
Mrs. J. P. Weatherford, Litchfield, Ill., says: "We have had an invalid child for the last nine years and until we began using Vinol, we sometimes thought there was little hope for him. He would have terrible coughing spells at night, and they would leave him so exhausted. We tried everything, but to no avail. At last some one suggested that we try Vinol, and we noticed a change in him from the very first. The coughing spells ceased and he gained in strength right along. We would not be without it and would advise parents who have frail and weakly children to try Vinol."

HIS NEXT VISIT

Dr. Mahon, the specialist in chronic diseases will make his next regular visit to Newark Wednesday, Nov. 3 at Warden Hotel. His last visiting day here was noteworthy for his having had more callers than at any previous time, thus showing how quickly the people see the value of being able to consult a successful specialist right here at home.
Dr. Mahon does not employ other physicians to practice for him, but gives personal attention to every case, thereby giving his patients the benefit of his years of experience. For his next visit it is suggested that persons calling for the first time come in the forenoon and those already taking treatment in the afternoon. Persons are welcome at all times, but delay must be avoided by following this suggestion. (Advertisement.)

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.
We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.
The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork they are obliged to do. The eliminative tissues cease and the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.
When your thighs ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism had weakened out from your pharmacist about your ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.
Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

Cheese Pudding.
Cheese pudding is an unusual dish that is much liked and very easy to make. Prepare three-quarters of a pound of breadcrumbs and mix with them one-half of a pound of cheese, grated or cut into small pieces. Scald one cupful of milk, melt in it a piece of butter the size of an egg and pour over the cheese and bread. After the mixture has stood fifteen minutes beat four eggs very light with a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, stir into the pudding and pour it into a buttered baking dish. Bake forty-five minutes.

Sirup For Hot Cakes.
The following sirup is good, inexpensive and easily made. The butter called for in this recipe gives the sirup a richness which the ordinary sugar sirup does not have. Use one cupful of dark brown sugar, one cupful of water and one teaspoonful of butter. Put all in a saucepan, stir often and allow to boil until it thickens slightly, about like cream.

Successful Root and Herb Remedy.
The study of roots and herbs, their character and power over disease, was what led Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., to produce for women's ills the most successful remedy the world has ever known and while she passed her reward some years ago, her work among suffering women is still carried on by trained assistants and many tons of roots and herbs are consumed annually in the manufacture of the now famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as originated by her.

NOTED SPEAKERS FOR FARMERS' WEEK.
One of the features of farmers' week to be held at the Ohio State University, Feb. 2 to 6, 1914, will be the special lectures to be given at 4 and 7:30 each day in the week. Some notable speakers from out of the state have been secured and will take a prominent place on the program of these special lectures. Among this list of speakers from other states will be Cyril G. Hopkins, the "Soil Builder" of Illinois, who is at the head of the agronomy and chemistry work at the Illinois University; G. L. Christie, superintendent of agricultural extension at Purdue University, Indiana; Fred H. Rankin, in charge of the same work at the University of Illinois; H. J. Waters, president of the Kansas Agricultural College; and Martha Van Rensselaer of the department of home economics in the New York State College of Agriculture. K. H. Talbot, concrete expert of Chicago will be present during the week to give instruction in his line of work.

WILL DISTRIBUTE PURE BRED COCKERELS.
Pure bred white Lechorn cockerels can be obtained from the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, at a cost to the farmer of but 50 cents and express charges. It is a plan that has been adopted by the college to distribute better male birds among flocks of the state and to add interest in the raising of pure bred poultry. The price, which in no way covers the value of the birds, is made so that the cockerels, which have been bred by the poultry department, will be available to any poultry raiser who is located on a farm. The breed that is to be sent out is simply the one of which the college has the most and is in the best condition to be sent out in various sections. Those desiring the cockerels should write A. B. Graham, Ohio State University, Columbus.

AMENDMENTS 'EXPLAINED TO THE VOTERS

A unique service at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday night attracted a large audience when an announcement was made that well known local business men and attorneys would explain the proposed constitutional amendments and initiated laws.

Attorneys Edward Kibler, sr., explained the proposed short ballot amendment, Joseph N. Pugh explained the amendment to exempt municipal bonds from taxation, A. A. Stasel explained the short legislative proposition and Charles A. Flory explained the amendment to make women eligible to appointment at the head of institutions of correction. Edward S. Randolph talked of the subway bond issue proposition and B. F. McDonald explained at length the initiated law to prohibit the shipment of liquor into dry territory. While the service extended over the usual time devoted to Sunday evening services, it was highly interesting and the speakers had the close attention of the entire audience. None of the speakers made any recommendation, merely offering the explanation and leaving the disposition of the question to the intelligent consideration of the voters.

Special music, including several choir and orchestra selections featured the service.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

ACTUAL COST OF SUBWAY TO CITY $240,000

To the voters of The City of Newark, Ohio.

So much has been printed in connection with the subway proposition that further arguments in its favor appear to us superfluous. There is one proposition, however, that we want the electors to thoroughly understand. The cost of the construction of the subways will not exceed the amount of the bond issue, $240,000. The facts in the case are that the engineers for the city have estimated the cost of this work at $200,000 which includes an item of almost $20,000 for contingencies, and the cost was estimated upon the basis of similar work in Columbus. All quantities of material used in construction of this work have been agreed upon and the only matter of difference was the cost of such quantities. The estimate of the Railroad Companies was $240,000. In order to reach an agreement upon the matter so that the same could be closed up so far as the plans were concerned the estimate of the Railroads was accepted.

MAIL CLERKS HAD BUSY TIME ALL DAY SUNDAY

Eleventh hour appeals to Newark voters, entrusted to the tender care of Uncle Sam's mail service almost swamped the local postal force Sunday and the clerks and carriers put in many hours overtime handling the matter that it might reach the voters before election day.

Early Sunday morning, Acting Assistant Postmaster Walter Daugherty realized that the bulk of the mail was too great to be handled properly by the regular force on duty Sunday. He called out the substitute help and all those of the regular force who could be reached. As a consequence, most of the matter was distributed and "routed" by the carriers and ready for the first trip out Monday morning.

Sunday afternoon, an automobile from Columbus, brought two large tie sacks, containing approximately 6,000 pieces of first class matter, attacking the subway bond issue proposition.

There was nothing about this matter to indicate its origin and there was much speculation among the recipients as to who was responsible for its issue and what organization was willing to spend $120 in postage, besides the printing and preparation of the matter in an endeavor to defeat the bond issue.

The carriers had hardly started on their rounds before friends of the subway proposition had hustled to the committee's headquarters in the Trust building with the matter which is intended to arouse sentiment against the proposed issue.

The plea against the issue of bonds was unsigned. It covers almost two pages of typewritten manuscript. Briefly, the arguments set forth in support of the opposition were that the bond limit of the city was $1,400,000 and that the subway issue would bring the city's bonded indebtedness to a little more than a million dollars. This, "they" say, would leave too small a margin for improvements that might be deemed necessary within the next few years.

They also declare that there is no estimate to the extent of the property damage. That there is no reason why the southside should be favored without doing anything to relieve the situation in East, West and North Newark.

They declare that a system of viaducts, two to the south end, two in East Main street, one at Cedar, one at Williams, one at Pine and another in North Newark would be more practical.

"We do not anticipate that this attack on the proposition will result in any harm to the sentiment we have aroused in favor of the project," declared Chairman Baugher of the Subway committee. "The eleventh hour attack is cowardly and unfair. Its authors, if they were Newark people, dared not have the attack prepared in Newark. It was necessary for them to go to Columbus to have the printing done and then sent strangers to the city to mail them in the local office. It was apparent that the authors wished to have it appear that the matter was prepared here yet they were too cowardly to sign the attack except behind the anonymous title of "Citizens' Committee."

The anonymous circular is fully and completely answered by the Subway committee in today's Advocate. The Advocate has been and is in favor of the proposed issue of bonds, believing it to be the best interest of the city of Newark to make the subway improvement for the protection of life, for the proper development of the city and in common justice to the people of South Newark.

M., of Dayton, O., spoke before a large and deeply interested assembly in the High School auditorium Sunday afternoon on "Two Salvations But No Second Chance." This marked the concluding one of a series of four Sunday lectures of a course under auspices of the International Bible Students' League.

The speaker made it very emphatic that none will get a second chance, though every one will get one full chance for salvation, either in this world or in the world to come. He described the two salvations as the salvation of the church and the salvation of the world. The first, he said, begin to be applicable to the church at Pentecost; the other will apply to all mankind, except the church, during the Millennium.

In conclusion the speaker urged upon his hearers the necessity of "giving more earnest heed to the diligent study of God's word, rather than to the creeds originated during the Dark Ages, that thus their faith in God might be increased and their joys made full."

Next Sunday afternoon in the convention room of the court house a special meeting and address will begin at 2 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young—is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are getting in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

COWARDLY, MISLEADING AND ANONYMOUS SUBWAY ROORBACK

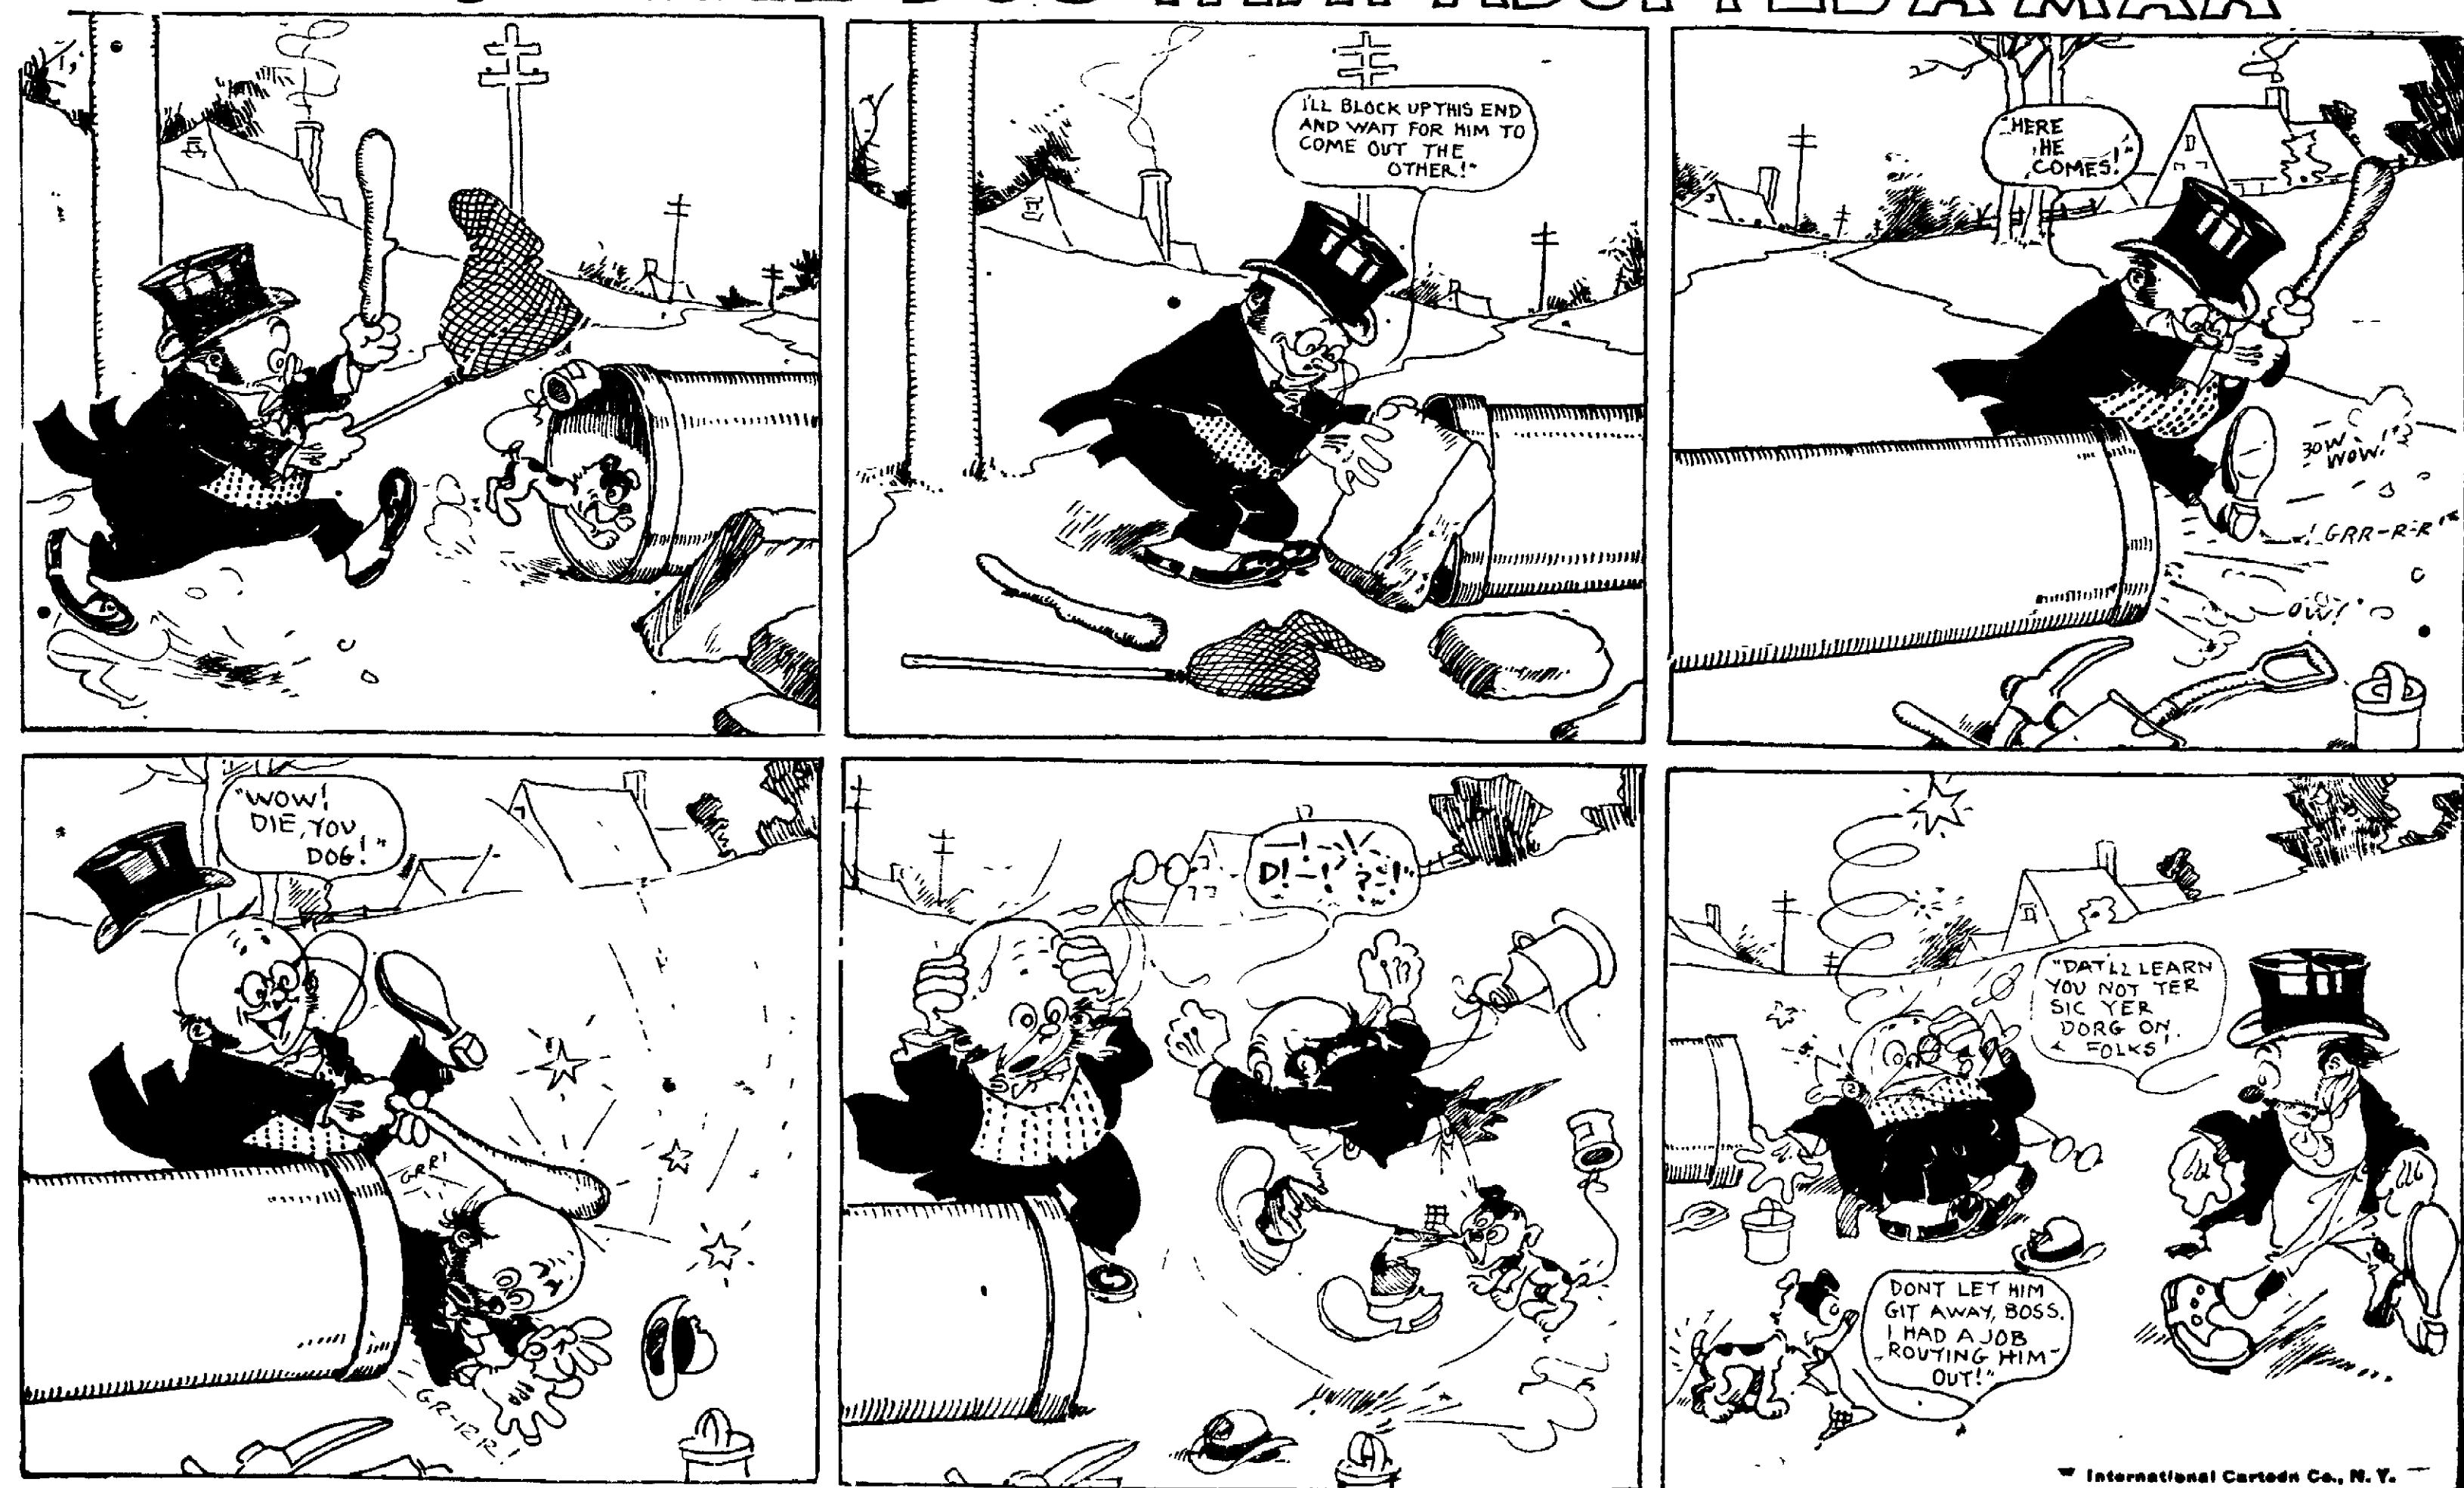

The most dastardly eleventh hour roorback ever attempted in our city was mailed to the citizens of Newark today. Printed secretly in Columbus and brought into Newark in automobiles, it's authorship is ANONYMOUS and so evidently the creation of a person who is ashamed of it that he signs himself "Citizens Committee"

No Such Committee Exists in Newark

All of the pretended arguments of this infamous, unjust, misleading and puerile communication have been refuted. The citizens of Newark are entitled to know who assumes to advise them in such a sinister and covert manner. The citizens of Newark are entitled to know who are the persons who are ready to destroy things that speak for progress, that mean the building up of Newark rather than tearing it down.

The eleventh hour roorback is one of the best possible arguments in favor of the proposition that it seeks to attack.

The Human Procession

In a little hut on the shores of Lake Winnipeg, Manitoba, Vilhjalmur Stefansson was born thirty-four years ago today. The distinguished Icelandic-Canadian explorer, young as he is, has already added vastly to the world's knowledge of the Far North and its people, and the expedition on which he is now engaged may enable him to write the last important chapter in the story of geographical discovery. Whatever of hardships may confront the Stefansson party in those unknown regions bordering on the North Pole, they will hardly be worse than the leader of the expedition has already experienced. Stefansson was still a babe in arms when a famine swept over the then bleak and sparsely settled Manitoba, and hundreds of people, especially children, succumbed to starvation. Among the victims were two of the Stefansson children, but the infant Vilhjalmur survived. He lived through the winter when the temperature reached 40 below zero. With the coming of spring the Stefanssons, who had emigrated to Manitoba from Iceland shortly before Vilhjalmur's birth, fled before the specter of want and settled in North Dakota. Ten years ago Vilhjalmur graduated from the University of Iowa, and then he spent three years studying anthropology at Harvard. His first arctic tour was commenced in 1906, and in 1905 he made another extended trip into the northern wilds, in the course of which he discovered the tribe of blonde Eskimos. While his work has lacked the spectacular features of a dash for the pole, it has been of greater benefit to humanity and science. If he should realize his hopes on his present expedition, the young Norseman will be entitled to rank as one of the foremost explorers in history.

Mohamed V. Sultan of Turkey, Khalif of the Moslems, Head of the Faithful, Supreme Lord of all the Followers of the Prophet, and Director and Only Lieutenant on Earth of Mohammed, was born in Constantinople sixty-nine years ago today. His reign has been a disastrous one for Turkey, and it is understood that the kindly and pious sovereign is anxious to abdicate and return to that seclusion from which he was dragged to succeed the deposed Abdul Hamid on the throne. Mohamed spends most of his time in pious devotions, and religiously performs all the prayers and ceremonies of his faith.

He was minister to Belgium several years, until appointed ambassador to Mexico in 1909.

WORKS ALL DAY.

And Studies at Night on Grape-Nuts Food.

Some of the world's great men have worked during the day and studied evenings to fit themselves for greater things. But it requires a good constitution generally to do this.

A Ga. man was able to keep it up with ease after he had learned the sustaining power of Grape-Nuts, although he had failed in health before he changed his food supply. He says:

"Three years ago I had a severe attack of stomach trouble which left me unable to eat anything but bread and water.

"The nervous strain at my office from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. and improper foods caused my health to fail rapidly. Cereal and so-called 'Foods' were tried without benefit until I saw Grape-Nuts mentioned in the paper."

"In hopeless desperation I tried this food and at once I gained strength, flesh and appetite. I am now able to work all day at office and study at night, without the nervous exhaustion that was usual before I tried Grape-Nuts."

"It leaves me strengthened, refreshed, satisfied; nerves quieted and toned up, body and brain waste restored. I would have been a living skeleton, or more likely a dead one by this time, if it had not been for Grape-Nuts."

Saturday Night's Show.

The much talked of Eva Tanguay engagement is a thing of the past. Her Volcanic Vaudeville company was undoubtedly a hit, the same cannot be said of Eva herself. Probably too much was expected of the vaudeville star who for 40 weeks commanded a salary of $2500 per week, and it wasn't a press story for the cash was paid her weekly by one of the largest vaudeville concerns in the country.

A large audience was present at the matinee and a larger one in the evening. Miss Tanguay was on the program for three numbers, songs about herself, her own original version of "Salome" and a tango and waltz assisted by Johnny Ford. However she only appeared in the first two numbers disappointing many, including a number who had witnessed her acts before and had gone to the theatre to see her in the tango. As Eva says: "People say I'm crazy, possibly I am, but I don't care. It's getting me the money."

The performance opened with the Nicholas Troupe of hoop rollers and diablo manipulators, one of the finest acts of its kind that has ever appeared on the vaudeville stage and one that holds the record for a continuous vaudeville engagement in the metropolis. The Orlando Trio was the second number on the program and they pleased all with their refined singing, responding to a number of encores. Hylda Hollis & Co., in a clever little playlet "Who's Afraid," were very clever, the cast consisting of three, Miss Hollis, Mr. Herbert Light and Mr. Ed. Edward Sloan, the first named gentleman was suffering with a very severe cold, otherwise he would have shown to much better advantage. Then came the incomparable Eva, her own press agent, emotional, eccentric, some say crazy, in songs about herself. Her costumes were undoubtedly the finest ever shown on the stage of the Auditorium. Her singing needs no criticism for Miss Tanguay admits herself that she cannot sing but that wasn't necessary for her audience would have found it out without the admission before she had attempted a dozen notes.

During an intermission which followed "The Village Orchestra" was rendered by the musicians composing the orchestra of 10 pieces. It was amusing indeed, but very far stretched. Next came Johnny Ford, eccentric dancing comedian, assisted by Roy Barton at the piano. Johnny is a pleasing comedian and made a great hit. Mr. Barton is a very clever musician and his work helped make the act "go" big. The "Moor Arabs," a troupe of seven, were splendid entertainers in their whirlwind feats, and scored a big success. Brady and Mahoney in a travesty comedy act secured a big laugh. Their parodies on late popular songs hit us very much enjoyed. The musical Nosses in "Old Seville," were perhaps the best number on the program. The five musicians were entertainers of a high order and their act was handsomely staged and costumed. It closed the show in "Salome," it would be charitable not to criticize it.

Common Pleas Court.

The case of the State of Ohio vs. Thomas Spicer, heretofore assigned for trial on November 7, was continued upon an application made by counsel for defendant. The defendant in this case is charged with non-support, an indictment having been returned at the September term grand jury.

In the case of Chas. D. Dicken vs. the R. & O. R. Co., the jurors returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $450.00. The suit was brought to recover damages on account of three horses having been killed by a passenger train on the Shawnee division in October, 1911.

A meeting of the Licking County Bar association was held Saturday at which time a new fee bill was adopted by the association.

COUNTRY PEOPLE SOUTH OF NEWARK FAVOR THE SUBWAYS

"Country people residing south of Newark, are so anxious to see the subway bond issue carry, that they are willing to pay their share of the taxes," declared J. M. Taylor, a resident of Franklin township, in an interview with an Advocate reporter Monday.

Mr. Taylor explained that the large territory south of the city had no other entrance to Newark except those which crossed the railroads. He related many experiences where he and his neighbors had been held up from 15 minutes to a half hour by having the crossings blocked. He declared that much time was lost, that the inconvenience was so great that no voter should hesitate to cast his ballot in favor of the proposition.

Fatal Ambition; Noble Ambition

Ambition a Prime Necessity to a Successful Life.

A MISTRANSLATED TEXT.

His True Import—Two Notable Examples in the Bible of Right and Wrong Ambitions—A Glorious Life and Prospect Ruined by Wrong Ambitions—In Contrast, Another Glorious Life Enhanced in Eternal Glory by Following Right Ambitions—The Lesson to the Church of Christ—Incidental Lessons to All and to Angels.

Washington, D. C., November 2.—Of Pastor Russell's two discourses here today we report the one on "Ambitions—Noble and Ignoble." He took for his text Philippians 2:6, 7, but corrected the translation, declaring that he had the support of scholarship in rendering it thus: "Who, being in the form of God, did not meditate a usurpation to be on an equality with God, but [contrariwise] made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant." He said:

Whoever has no ambition has not properly begun to live. Ambition implies appreciation of the value of life—a weighing of prospects and possibilities—a decision, and a fixed determination of will. Parents and teachers should aim to lift before the mental vision of the young noble ideals, and to assist them in determining what they would copy and which goal they will bend life's energies to reach. To such parents and teachers many of those successful in life refer in terms of endearment, declaring how much they owe to the encouragement of ideals and ambitions to which these assisted them.

Many Wee-Begone Faces. As we learn to read character and to observe people, we perceive that many are wholly without ambition; or that their ambitions are so low and trivial as not to be of real benefit. In a crowd of a thousand people, less than a hundred will show by their faces and their energy that they have an ideal, an ambition, and are pursuing it. In other words, nine-tenths of our poor, fallen race lack the very mainspring of life.

This lack of proper ambition not only makes life a drudgery instead of a pleasure, but it is a menace to our social fabric. According to the Bible, it is this nine-tenths of the human family, without lawful ambitions, that will be anarchists, striving to pull down the structure of civilization in a kind of blind fury—the awakening of an ambition which, knowing not how to vent itself, will bring trouble upon all.

Worldly Ambitions Profitable. It is the ambitious tenth of humanity that cause the wheels of progress to turn. Their ambitions are keeping their own minds actively occupied and are giving employment to the remainder of men. The ambitious mechanic hopes to become an inventor and to rise in the social scale. The ambitious clerk strives for success, hoping to become a successful merchant. The successful merchants, princes and captains of industry take pride in building up vast enterprises, in the erection of monumental edifices, in the construction of great bridges, tunnels, etc. Others have ambitions along professional lines. There is a general tendency among the ambitious to view these successful people harshly, to think of their ambitions as purely selfish, giving no credit to the pleasure of an exercise of ambition which the majority cannot appreciate because they have none themselves.

Contrary Thoughts Should Prevail. Men with ambition leading on to genius should be admired, appreciated; and it should be remembered that they have helped mankind in general to larger conceptions of life and to wider possibilities. I grant, indeed, the necessity for legislation in restraining the rich, and especially trusts and combinations of brain and money which might endanger the liberties and prosperity of the masses. But let us never forget how much we owe to the ambitious men whom we seek to restrain from power to crush those of less ambition and less capacity, who are more or less dependent upon them.

As proving that some of our successful men were moved by ambition rather than love of money, we note the fact that, having accumulated vast fortunes, some are directing their energies in expending the money in the endowment of colleges, the building of libraries, the financing of political and medical investigations for public weal. Whether their judgment and aims agree as respects the wisdom of their benefactions is another matter. They have a right to exercise their own judgments in the use of money which came to them through the exercise of their own brains and ambitions.

We can surely agree that a beautiful library building becomes an incentive for the erection of other beautiful buildings, even though comparatively few of the public make use of the books therein and prefer the trashy kind. Perhaps some good may also result from the endowment of great colleges, even though they are doing more than anything else to undermine faith in the personal God of the Bible, and thus hastening the great day of anarchy by destroying faith and hope in Messiah's promised Kingdom, which are an offset to the trials and difficulties of the present life.

And if to you or me should come the thought of how much more wisely we could use the money, let us check the thought, remembering that God has not entrusted it to us, and that all our time and thought may be more wisely used in connection with our own stewardship of what talent, influence and money we do possess.

The Lesson of Our Text. We should remember that our text, and indeed the entire Bible, is addressed to the Church of Christ—to those who have left the world, who have given their all to the Lord, acceptable through Christ, and who are intent upon knowing and doing God's will. The world is left by the Lord to try out its own ambitions, to realize eventually that these result in disappointment. It is when we experience the disappointment of our own plans and ambitions that we are truly prepared to look to the Lord. In our text the Apostle does not specify Satan in contrast with Jesus; yet we may read between the lines that He had in mind the opposite course pursued by Lucifer, who became Satan, and the Logos, who became Christ. The Scriptural record is that Lucifer was one of the highest and most glorious spirit beings—a cherub. But a sinful ambition took possession of him. Instead of the righteous ambition to serve and honor his Creator, he thought that if he had an empire of his own he could improve upon the Divine order of things. —Isaiah 14: 12-15.

This ambition ultimately led Lucifer to carry out the program in connection with mankind. Thenceforth he was known as Satan, God's Adversary, "the Prince of this world, which now worketh in the hearts of the children of disobedience." According to the Bible, Satan has been permitted to have a certain amount of liberty, to show what the evil course would be and what its evil results. But according to the Bible he is soon to be restrained for a thousand years, while Messiah's Kingdom will break the shackles of sin and death, and give all the fullest opportunity to return to harmony with God and to attain everlasting life. Ultimately, Satan is to be destroyed, together with all who have his spirit of antagonism to God—in subordination—evil ambition.

The Logos Humbled Himself. Mark the sharp contrast between Satan's course and that of the Logos, the Only Begotten Son of God. The latter meditated no such usurpation of Divine authority as Lucifer aimed to obtain. On the contrary, He was the very personification of loving obedience and self-abnegation. Instead of meditating a usurpation to make Himself equal to the Father, He declared, "My Father is greater than I"; "My Father is greater than all"; "I delight to do Thy will, O My God." —John 14:28; 10:29; Psalm 40:8.

As in due time Satan found opportunity for manifesting his ambition, so in due time the Logos found opportunity for manifesting His humility and loving obedience. Man's fall brought the opportunity—the need of a Redeemer. As it was man who was condemned to death, so the redemption of Adam and his race must be accomplished by the death of a man. The death of bulls and goats could be only typical. Neither would an angel be a corresponding price. Hence the Divine proposal to the Logos—that if He would become a man, taking the sinner's nature, but not participating in the sinner's weakness or sin, He might thus be the Redeemer of men and accomplish the Divine will.

Attached to this proposal was the promise that so great a manifestation of love, loyalty and obedience to the Father would receive a great reward—an exaltation to the Divine nature, glory, honor and immortality. Thus Jesus declared that for His faithful-ness He had been rewarded by His Father with a place in His Throne.—Revelation 3:21.

The Lesson of Humility. St. Paul was seeking to impress the lesson of humility, as the context shows. Jesus exemplified in His own course of humility the ambition to be and to do just what would be pleasing to the Heavenly Father, not meditating for an instant to grasp Divine glory and honor, and association with the Father in His Throne. He did God's will at the cost of His life—even the death of the cross.

And behold God's wonderful grace! He who sought not to usurp the Throne, but who humbled Himself, has been exalted to the right hand of God! What an exemplification of the teachings of God's Word! Did not God declare, "Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall"? He permitted Satan to be an illustration of just such a result; and this illustration is forceful in its application to all. "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble."

The Apostle points out that the Heavenly Father, who so highly rewarded our Savior's loving obedience, has made a similar proposition to those whom He is calling during this Age to become associates with His Son. If we become dead to the world and lay down our lives in obedience to the Father's will, as Jesus did, we shall share His Throne, as He has promised. Justified by faith in our Redeemer's sacrifice, presenting our bodies living sacrifices, and faithfully persevering in the narrow way, we shall "make our calling and election sure."

"Every Knee Shall Bow." The Apostle (V. 10) declares that our Master's exaltation, as a result of His humility, is so great that all eventually must recognize Him as Lord of all. Unto Him every knee shall bow of the Heavenly and the earthly families. Already the angels acknowledge Him. As we read, the Father saith: "Let all the angels of God worship [acknowledge] Him." The bowing of earth will come later.

The work of the entire thousand years of Messiah's Reign will be for the uplifting of mankind from sin and death. Whom the Son will make free will be free indeed. But all those made free will know that their release is due to the great sacrifice which Jesus accomplished in the carrying out of the Divine Plan. And all will know that the Redeemer has been honored of the Father and exalted to the chief place. And those reaching perfection will be glad to bow the knee to Him and to confess Him with their tongues.

The Father is Exalted. We are not to gather from these statements that Jesus, in any sense of the word, will take the place, the glory, the honor, of the Father. Jehovah God declares, "I give not My glory to another." (Isaiah 42:8) St. Paul explains that although Jesus will be hailed as Lord of all, nevertheless it is manifest that He is excepted who puts all things thus in subjection to the Son. St. Paul emphasizes this by telling us (1 Corinthians 15:27, 28) that it will be the Father's Power that will bring everything in subjection to the Son; and that when the Son, in carrying out the Father's gracious plans, shall have put all things in obedience to Himself, then shall He deliver up the Kingdom to the Father, that the Father may be all in all. Truly the Divine Program, as stated in the Bible, is beautiful and wonderful. It illustrates to us elements of the Divine Character that we never could have appreciated except as man's fall into sin and death gave opportunity for the exercise of Divine Wisdom, Justice, Love and Power. Had there been no sin, no death, there would have been no opportunity for God to manifest His Justice in dealing with the sinner, no opportunity to manifest His Love for the world in providing that they should be rescued from the power of sin and death. Neither would there have been an opportunity for demonstrating Satan's disloyalty and whereunto it would lead. Neither would there have been an opportunity for testing the Only Begotten of the Father, and demonstrating the depth of His love and loyalty even unto the death of the cross, unless sin had been permitted.

Neither would there have been an opportunity for God to show His generosity in dealing with the Logos, in His high exaltation to the Divine nature and glory. There would have been no opportunity to show the length, breadth, height and depth of the Love of God in lifting the Church from the horrible pit and miry clay of sin and death, justifying them freely through the merit of Christ's sacrifice, inviting them to share in His glory, honor and immortality, and finally bringing the Elect to participation in the Divine nature, and in the great work of Messiah.—Rev. 2:10, 26, 27.

Room for Boundless Ambition. In view of what we have seen of the Divine arrangement there surely is room for the exercise of the most boundless ambition imaginable amongst those blessed with the hearing ear and the Gospel Message. It would be a great ambition to strive to become kings or queens of the kingdoms of the world. It would be a great ambition to hope to become judges, senators, or the President of the United States. But such great ambitions would be as nothing when compared with that set before believers of God's Word—the ambition to be received by the great Creator as sons, partakers of the Divine nature (2 Peter 1:4), heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ our Lord, to a Heavenly inheritance and Kingdom everlasting.

If any one wants a grand ambition, here is one worth dying for! Indeed, it can be attained only by dying. First must come the death of the will as respects earthly aims, projects, ambitions, etc. Then gradually must come the transformed mind, which rejoices to die daily and to suffer with Christ. If so be that we may be also glorified with him. (Romans 8:17.) This is the ambition necessary to make true, loyal soldiers of the Cross, willing to endure hardness in the Cause of the Captain of their Salvation, and to lay down life in the service of the King of kings.

A Grand Rush for It. One might suppose that such a Message would find millions anxious and willing to lay hold upon its terms. But no! only a few have faith—and without faith they cannot be pleasing to God. Some have a little faith and render a little obedience, take some steps, refrain from certain sins and seek to walk hand in hand with the Lord—and with mammon. But these make a mistake. There is no promise of joint-heirship with the Savior except by a full cutting loose from the world and by a vital union with God through Christ.

"He that hath an ear to hear, let him hear." He that hath a humble heart of obedience, let him lay hold of the promise and attain the greatest of all ambitions. As for others, let them choose the noblest ambitions of which they are capable, assured that in proportion as they are honest and loyal they shall eventually be blessed under Messiah's Kingdom.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.
